Cradle Coast State Council Representative Report – March 2025

Angus Bisset Stewart

March Narrative Report

Throughout March, I was actively engaged in various professional and community activities, focusing on leadership, collaboration, and planning for upcoming initiatives.

At the beginning of the month, I followed up on my attendance at the State Council meeting in February, ensuring continuity in discussions and actions. I also met with Alec and Mackenzie from UTAS Sport to discuss the Run Club in Burnie, exploring opportunities for collaboration and growth.

Engagement with stakeholders continued as I had my second meeting with Sonya Stanford, strengthening our dialogue on key initiatives. Additionally, I participated in a grants meeting, contributing to the planning and allocation of resources for future projects.

A significant portion of my time was dedicated to event management and student engagement. I took on the role of Master of Ceremonies (MC) for Orientation at CC, both in preparation and execution. I also met with HDR students, providing support and fostering academic discussions.

My involvement in institutional processes extended to sitting on an interview panel, helping assess and select candidates for a key role. Meanwhile, I was also engaged in campaign planning, laying the groundwork for strategic initiatives moving forward.

Overall, March was a dynamic month filled with strategic meetings, event facilitation, and planning activities that contributed to both immediate and long-term goals.
