Narrative update:

With the semester kicking off, things are getting started. February was all about settling in, meeting students, and tackling key issues. I attended State Council onboarding, team meetings, and a DiSC Workshop to help us work better together.

I've been chatting with students about campus life, HDR support, and general concerns, making sure your voices are heard. I'm also working on safety discussions with campus security and student living after recent incidents. Plus, I joined the Food Hub Expansion Working Group to improve student access to food resources.

This month is all about Orientation. I'll be co-hosting and attending events and following up on student concerns. If you see me around, say hi, I'd love to chat and meet more of you as the semester unfolds.
