TUSA Equity Committee – May 2025 Update

From the TUSA Equity President

Over the past month, the Equity Committee has been busy listening, advocating, and delivering meaningful outcomes for students across our campuses. Here's what we've been working on:

Uplifting Equity Conversations

I continued representing student voices in key university spaces including the Disability & Inclusive Campus Reference Group, SSAF planning, and the UTAS Academic Reform conversation. We also launched TUSA's first Accessibility Survey — a major step forward in gathering data directly from students with lived experience.

On Campus & In Conversation

We've kept up strong presence at Sandy Bay through Student Hubs and Vent Tents, and I've been connecting with students at events like the Autism Awareness Walk, Racism Workshop, and RAP Circle. These spaces help us understand the challenges you face and how TUSA can respond.

Equity Committee Growth & Action

We welcomed our new International Students Equity Officer, Miraj, and supported their onboarding. April's Equity Committee meeting focused on shared learning and cohort planning, with strong contributions from all portfolios.

Building Leadership

I completed the final workshops in the "Leading with Influence" series — including sessions on confidence and difficult conversations — equipping us to lead better, listen deeper, and advocate harder.

We're grateful for your feedback and input through our surveys, events, and everyday chats. Keep reaching out — you shape the work we do.
