Narrative update:

Hi all,

I am glad to share with you what has been going on during the last month.

As Postgraduate Education President, I have been fortunate to receive extensive training from TUSA together with the State Council. This included among others working effectively in a non-profit organisation like TUSA, principles of fiduciary duty, stakeholder engagement, and emotional intelligence at the workplace. This has supported me in sharpening the axe, to successfully represent UTAS postgraduate students during 2026.

Actions I have taken in the past month consider among others: engaging with postgraduate students, postgraduate clubs & societies, university staff including the UTAS academic senate and Graduate Research Office (GRO), the TUSA Food Security program, and Youth Law Australia (Student Legal Rights - SLS).

I am looking forward to continuing to represent postgraduate students at UTAS. Specifically, I will be liaising with the GRO to initiate the Students as Partners (SaP) framework in 2026, I will be collaborating with Solomon - the undergraduate education president - in hosting academic roundtables in which postgraduates clubs & societies can raise their concerns/input, I will be hosting writing sessions during which postgraduate students can focus on academic writing, I will be meeting representatives of the school of Arts and Society and Postgraduate Gallery Society to discuss an online art exhibition, and I will be advocating for students intellectual property in collaboration with SLS.

You can send me an email via: Postgrad.President@TUSA.utas.edu.au

I am here to listen, to advocate for you as a postgraduate student, and ensure that this is acted upon in universities policy.

Your postgraduate experience counts, you can count on me to advocate for you.
