Narrative update:

This has no doubt been an extremely busy month, but some very exciting things have come from it!

Throughout February, my focus as Rozelle Campus President centred on strengthening governance capability, enhancing stakeholder relationships, and supporting student engagement across the campus.

I was actively involved in strategic discussions relating to organisational operations, financial oversight and risk management, all while further developing my understanding of governance frameworks and board responsibilities through a series of targeted training sessions. Additional professional development in stakeholder relationships, communication and emotional intelligence helped to strengthen my leadership approach and ability to effectively represent the Rozelle students.

Operationally, the main event of the month was orientating our new nursing and paramedicine students! Both orientation days were an absolute success, as I believe I was able to effectively engage and inform students regarding TUSA – what we do, and how we can help students throughout their studies. The new student cohort was extremely receptive to the support services and community initiatives offered to them, and many came forward proposing ideas of their own that they'd like implemented at Rozelle!

I subsequently met with UTAS Sport to discuss the feasibility of some of these requests, and it is safe to say that Rozelle is shaping up to be a community-driven epicentre of all things social and sporty!

On that note, PaceMates – the new campus run club – will be meeting for the first time next Wednesday (4th of March) at 6:45am, for what is looking to be, a considerable turnout!

Courtesy of UTE (Unique Tassie [Rozelle] Experiences), several of our students were treated to a trip to Manly Surf School on Friday the 20th of February. It was a great day out, with many of the students (everyone besides me, basically) demonstrating a high level of prowess amidst the waves!

With an extremely busy month coming to an end, and even busier months on the horizon, I am extremely grateful to be in this position and am beyond ecstatic for what we can achieve this year!

As always, if you have any suggestions, concerns, or questions – please don't hesitate to contact me at: rozelle.president@tusa.utas.edu.au
