Narrative update:

Semester 2 is up and running – time has flown by! It'll be nice to have everyone back on campus, and we're looking forward to bringing some more vent tents and events here on the Cradle Coast. I'm excited to see what the last few months of the year brings!

Before (and during) the break, we've been focusing on how TUSA can continue to improve student experience through things such as engaging events, better food security, and safer and inclusive environments on campus. As O Week has come around, I have also been attending events and Zooms to welcome incoming students this semester – it has been lovely to meet you (both in-person and virtually).

This semester, we welcome a new TUSA member on the Cradle Coast – Olivia Hunt, our new Womens Equity Officer on the Equity Committee, whom I look forward to properly meeting and working with! I've also been working closely with Robyn Saunders to plan how we can continue to activate and engage students on the CC, with events lined up and trialling a new form of communication to our students. I'm looking forward to seeing how it all comes together!

Please let me know if you would like to share any concerns or suggestions, either in passing on campus, or through cradlecoast.president@tusa.utas.edu.au
